Struggling to pay for telephone service?

You may qualify for assistance. There are three telephone assistance programs available:

- Lifeline provides qualified customers with a monthly discount on charges for their primary home phone line.
- Link-Up reduces the cost that qualified customers have to pay for setting up new phone service at home.
- Service Connections Assistance helps low-income residents obtain new residential telephone service.

Eligibility may be determined based on your income or participation in other assistance programs. Ask one of our customer service representatives for details on how to prove eligibility and get signed up for telephone assistance programs.

Contact us to find out more.
